'Green' holiday cards

West Dundee-based Logica3, a design communications agency, has set up a new Web site, www.SaveATreeCards.com, which contains business-appropriate e-cards, allowing corporations to replace traditional paper holiday cards with sophisticated, more ecologically friendly electronic cards.

"Sustainability is an increasingly important issue for corporations and their key stakeholders," said Lisa Dombrowski, president of Logica3. "SaveATreeCards.com can help businesses save money and lessen their environmental footprint by reducing the amount of paper, ink, and packaging materials that are used each holiday season."

Logica3 is providing this e-card service to individuals, businesses and corporations free of charge this holiday season. In addition, for each e-card sent through SaveATreeCards.com, Logica3 will make a donation to The Nature Conservancy.

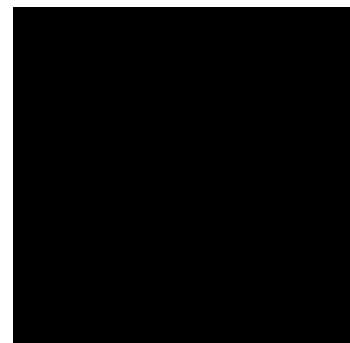

To send an e-card, companies may visit www.SaveATreeCards.com and select from 12 holiday designs and other business-related themes.
